

Your Job

Are you a student with a passion for Procurement and Innovation and are you looking for an internship position within a global organization? Then we are looking for you!

For our innovation project THINC (The Heineken Innovation Challenge) we are looking for an intern who can organise, manage and lead this innovation challenge. The aim of this internship is to gain experience in an international FMCG Company.

In this role:

- Lead and organize innovation events
- Maintain our innovation platform and all its activities/feed.
- Create detailed briefings
- Participate and align with all stakeholders in meetings
- Actively participate in improving the set-up of the project itself.
- Be part of the development of newest innovations within all HEINEKEN International brands.

Your working environment

As HGP/GCI Intern you will report to both Global Procurement as Global Commerce Innovation and therefore your position is based partly in Zoeterwoude and partly in Amsterdam. This gives you the opportunity to work with people from various departments and get a glimpse of both the corporate offices.

Your Profile

For this role we are looking for a Bachelor's or Master's degree student looking for an internationally oriented internship.

Also the ideal candidate has/is:

- Extensive knowledge and experience with Microsoft Office (Word, Excel and PowerPoint)
- Knows how to organize events and is detail-oriented
- Capable to work independently
- Capacity and skill of maintaining platforms
- Proactive attitude with good communication skills
- Previous internship experience in complex international environment is considered an advantage
- Technical knowledge of materials is considered an advantage.

Do you recognize yourself in the profile above? Then we gladly invite you to apply for his role.
